TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

About two or three years ago, Janet Phelan had a CAT scan done and an X-ray of her head. She showed me the x-ray that was supposed to be of her head. It was very strange. On examination of the teeth in the X-ray, it was clear they were not her teeth. The shape and arrangement of the teeth was totally different. However, the X-ray had her name on it.

Jeanette Poirier

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Jeanette Poirier". The script is cursive and fluid, with the first name and last name clearly legible.
